Introducing the Committees

UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL - UNSC

“If quick, I survive. If not quick, I am lost. This is death.”

-Sun Tzu

Established as one of the most pivotal organs of the United Nations with the strongest implementation powers, UNSC can essentially be considered to be the backbone of the United Nations.

In this world plagued by war, the security council might be our last and only hope for survival.

So, what will you do? Will you watch the world burn, or put out the flames? Or would you rather ignite the flame that envelopes the world?

UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY - UNGA

“The United Nations is our one great hope for a peaceful and free world”

-Ralph Bunche, Nobel Peace prize Laureate

Formed as the beating heart of global diplomacy, the UNGA stands as the most representative organ of the United Nations, where every nation has a voice and every voice has weight. In a world fractured by inequality, climate crisis, and ideological divides, the General Assembly remains our collective conscience — a forum not of force, but of will.

So, what will you say? Will you echo the silence of indifference, or raise your voice for change? Or will you craft the words that shape the world?

INTERNATIONAL PRESS

“The duty of the journalist is to tell the truth, even when it hurts.”

- Edward R. Murrow

In the charged world of global diplomacy, the International Press stands as both witness and watchdog. Journalists shape perception, challenge power, and preserve truth — one headline at a time. Photojournalists capture the unscripted — tension, resolve, silence.

Together, they record not just what's said, but what's felt.

So — what will you report?

A story that moves the world, an image that halts it, or the truth diplomacy dares not speak?

Introducing the Committees

UNITED NATIONS COMMITTEE ON THE PEACEFUL USES OF OUTER SPACE - UNCOPUOS

“Outer space must become an arena for international cooperation for global sustainable development, and not a theatre for an arms race.”

-Omran Sharaf, Chair of UNCOPOUS

Born from the dream of a peaceful cosmos, UNCOPOUS is the United Nations' gateway to the stars — a forum where science meets diplomacy, and ambition is tempered by responsibility. In an age where satellites outnumber solutions and space is no longer silent, this committee asks: will we explore to unite, or compete to divide?

So, what will you launch? A mission of peace, or a race for power? Or will you chart a course that redefines humanity's place among the stars?

GLOBAL PEACE SUMMIT - GPS

FREEZE DATE: AUGUST 31ST, 1939

“Never think that war, no matter how necessary, nor how justified, is not a crime.”

-Ernest Hemmingway

As the world teeters on the edge of catastrophe, the Global Peace Summit convenes in a final act of defiance — a gathering of leaders, thinkers, and dreamers who refuse to surrender to inevitability. August 31st, 1939 is not just a date; it is a question.

So, what will you choose? Will you sign the silence of war, or speak the language of peace? Or will you rewrite history before it's written in blood?
